STUDIOS

Global Television Studios at Media City proudly offer Sydney's most advanced end-to-end television studio solution.

The 9,000 square-metre complex can service multiple clients discretely around the clock.

Two large, secure studios boast unrivalled back-of-house facilities. Studio 1 and 2 each feature: nine private dressing rooms; hair and make-up; flexible-layout production offices with 12 workstations and two self-contained offices; VIP room can easily convert to extra wardrobe or office space; and, prop storage.

To give clients complete control over energy consumption, each studio and its respective support areas are separately monitored, so clients pay only for what they actually use.

At a huge 763m² each, Studio 1 and 2 offer state-of-the-art features including super-flat flooring on floating slabs and an NR25 sound isolation rating with high level/low noise air-conditioning that provides up to 800 watts of cooling per square metre.

High Definition and Standard Definition digital control units, live TV broadcast connectivity and on-site recording facilities are all available to suit specific requirements.

Large audience hold areas, catering facilities, VIP catering, restaurants, bar, newsagent and extensive parking are also on site, as are studio management, security and engineering maintenance services.

Global Television studios at Media City are ideally located for business, just minutes from Sydney airport with the city's central business district only three kilometres away. Central Train Station is a 10 minute walk and the southern end of the CBD a mere 20 minutes by foot.

For more than 20 years, Global Television has delivered premium broadcast resources that ensure client success. The company's new state-of-the-art Sydney studios exemplify commitment to creating winning production partnerships.
